

- The beam shaping collimator removes particles from the energy peak
- The momentum collimator removes the tails of the KE distribution

